

Still

By Lisa A. Bentzler, SSSF Associate

Still the memories linger the emotions are deep The foundation of a legacy... still that we shall keep

The past has left an imprint the present, still at hand For the future we must remember that it was sacred land

Still the convent sitting on the hill was there for many, yes by God's will

So as we see it go away please do not forget to pray

For the School Sisters of St. Francis know this is the way for grace to flow

Still strong and courageous pressing on through the ages

Remembering all that the convent gave our hearts are hurting it could not be saved

Still close your eyes and think awhile without a doubt you'll start to smile

One of the Sisters comes to mind still a wonderful memory you will find

So as St. Joseph Convent in Campbellsport is standing still it isn't for long that it will

An empty lot will remain a beautiful spot for one to gain

Still we bless this place and move along with peace, love, and also song

Yet there is a place over yonder a resting place for one to ponder

The lives of Sisters lie in full measure the town's long-lasting treasure

Still always remember the lives we have bonded

Sisters, community, friends and family, co-workers, one, all united

Still the Lord knows the pathway for his will to be done

Keep true to His teaching and...

still one day we will be one!
